The Solicitors Qualifying Examination

The Solicitors Qualifying Examination (SQE) is a single, rigorous assessment for all aspiring solicitors. The SQE will mean that everyone who becomes a solicitor will meet the same high standards in a consistent way.

SQE1 sample questions

Question 1

An architect received a leaflet from website designers advertising their website design packages. On the back of the leaflet was a copy of the website designers' standard terms, which contained a limitation clause.

The architect wrote a letter to the website designers asking them to design his website and he attached to his letter a copy of his own standard terms and conditions, which did not contain a limitation clause. The architect received a quotation for £2,500 from the website designers.

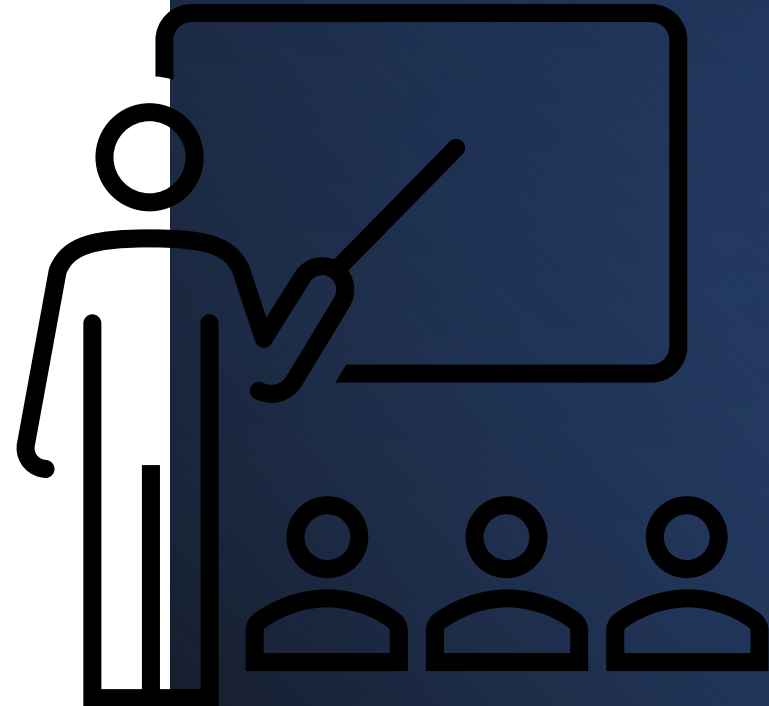

The architect signed and returned a tear-off slip to the website designers which stated that he accepted the quotation on the website designers' standard terms and conditions

Which of the following statements best describes the legal position?

- A. The terms on the leaflet constituted an offer which the architect accepted by asking for a quotation.
- B. The quotation constituted an offer which the architect accepted on the website designers' standard terms and conditions.
- C. The quotation constituted an offer which the architect accepted on the architect's standard terms and conditions.
- D. The letter from the architect to the web designers constituted an offer which the web designers accepted by sending a quotation.
- E. The letter from the architect to the web designers constituted a counter offer which the web designers accepted by sending a quotation.

Student Voice

'Out of all the modules I've taken over the three years, I've found this one to be the most engaging and well structured. Blackboard is the easiest to understand and engaging as well'.

'This module has been very good for exam practice and I'm happy that we got so much opportunity to do the SBA practice questions'.

'Lectures on Panopto being included into the folder of each workshop topic is a huge benefit- where all that needs to be accessed to learn the topic can be accessed in one page. Most organised module on blackboard'

I really enjoy having SBA questions on Blackboard after each workshop, so that I can have an opportunity to build on gaps in my knowledge.

Challenges

Student engagement (module intro forum, prep work, practice questions, feedback)

Student interest (now modules are more mainstream)

Amount of assessment guidance needed

Assessment style (AI proof)
