

Certificate of Higher Education: Genealogical Framework

Optional Courses Archaeology and Anthropology of Death and Burial Archaeology for the Local Historian Archaeology of the Welsh Graveyard Architectural History: The Archaeology of Our Built Environment Children's Lives Crime and Punishment in the 19th Century: Murder and the Detective Deciphering Old Handwriting: Palaeography for Beginners Genealogy, Computers and the Internet Gods and Chieftains: Wales in the Iron Age Researching and Writing Women's History A Research Project in Women's History (20 credits) History of Health and Medicine Introduction to Archaeology for Beginners Life, Death, and Religion: Themes in the Archaeology of Britain Memorials and their Meaning: Controversial Gateways to your Community's Past	Please note the following: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • The Certificate comprises 120 credits. • The Certificate of Higher Education is Level 4 (NQF). • 30 credits must be taken from the Core Courses. • 90 credits must be taken from the Optional Courses. • Courses are 10 credits unless otherwise stated. • To obtain the Certificate, candidates must achieve a weighted average of at least 40% overall. <hr style="border: 0.5px solid black;"/> Core Courses From Acorn to Oak: Building a Family Tree, Part One From Acorn to Oak: Building a Family Tree, Part Two From Acorn to Oak: Building a Family Tree, Part Three Optional Courses – 5 credits An introduction to Family History Sources at the National Library of Wales Branching Out: How to use estate records for family history Branching Out: How to use pre-1858 wills for family history Branching Out: How to use maps for family history How to begin researching the history of your house Now You're Talking: Preparing an Oral History Interview Presentation and Public Speaking for All	Optional Courses Maids, Wives, Widows, Whores: The Lives of Medieval Women Myths, Legends, Ghosts and Spirits of Wales Outlaws in Medieval England and Wales Richard III: Life and Legacy Riots and Rebellions in Wales: A History The Cistercians: An Introduction The Dark Ages? The Archaeology of Early Medieval Wales and England The 'Weaker Vessel': Roles of Women in the Seventeenth Century The Witch Hunts The Women of the Wars of the Roses Twentieth Century Family History Wales and the Wars of the Roses We Don't Talk About Them: Outcasts of Family History Welsh Landed Estates: Architecture, Landscapes, and their People Writing History for Publication Welsh History 1: Early Modern Wales (c.1485-1815)
---------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------	---------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------	-----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------